

A black and white portrait of a middle-aged man with short, graying hair, looking directly at the camera with a serious expression. He is wearing a dark jacket over a light-colored collared shirt. The background is a plain, light gray. Overlaid on the right side of the image is the text "Fin de race" in a large, white, serif font. The word "Fin" is at the top, "de" is in the middle, and "race" is at the bottom, all partially obscuring the man's face and shoulder.
