

Salope
du côté
obscur

A black and white photograph of a woman with long, wavy blonde hair. She is wearing a dark, possibly black, jacket or blazer. She is looking off to the side, away from the camera, with a slight smile. The background is a plain, light-colored wall. On the right side of the image, there is a vertical metal rod or pole with some dark, knotted fabric or string tied around it. The text 'Salope du côté obscur' is overlaid in large, white, serif font, centered vertically and horizontally over the woman's face and body.
